The

Maple Leaves

Foreword

With the hope of preserving memories of your high school years, the 1964 Maple Leaves is presented to the students and to the faculty of Dublin High School. Each year the graduating class leaves behind these familiar halls and begins a new segment of development in much the same way as winged seeds leave a maple tree to take root and grow. This high school is the strong trunk with many branches bearing leaves. This year's leaves, which comprise the activities, subject matter, and events, change a barren tree into a full and well-developed one.

The Annual Staff's deepest wish is to leave a permanent record of these

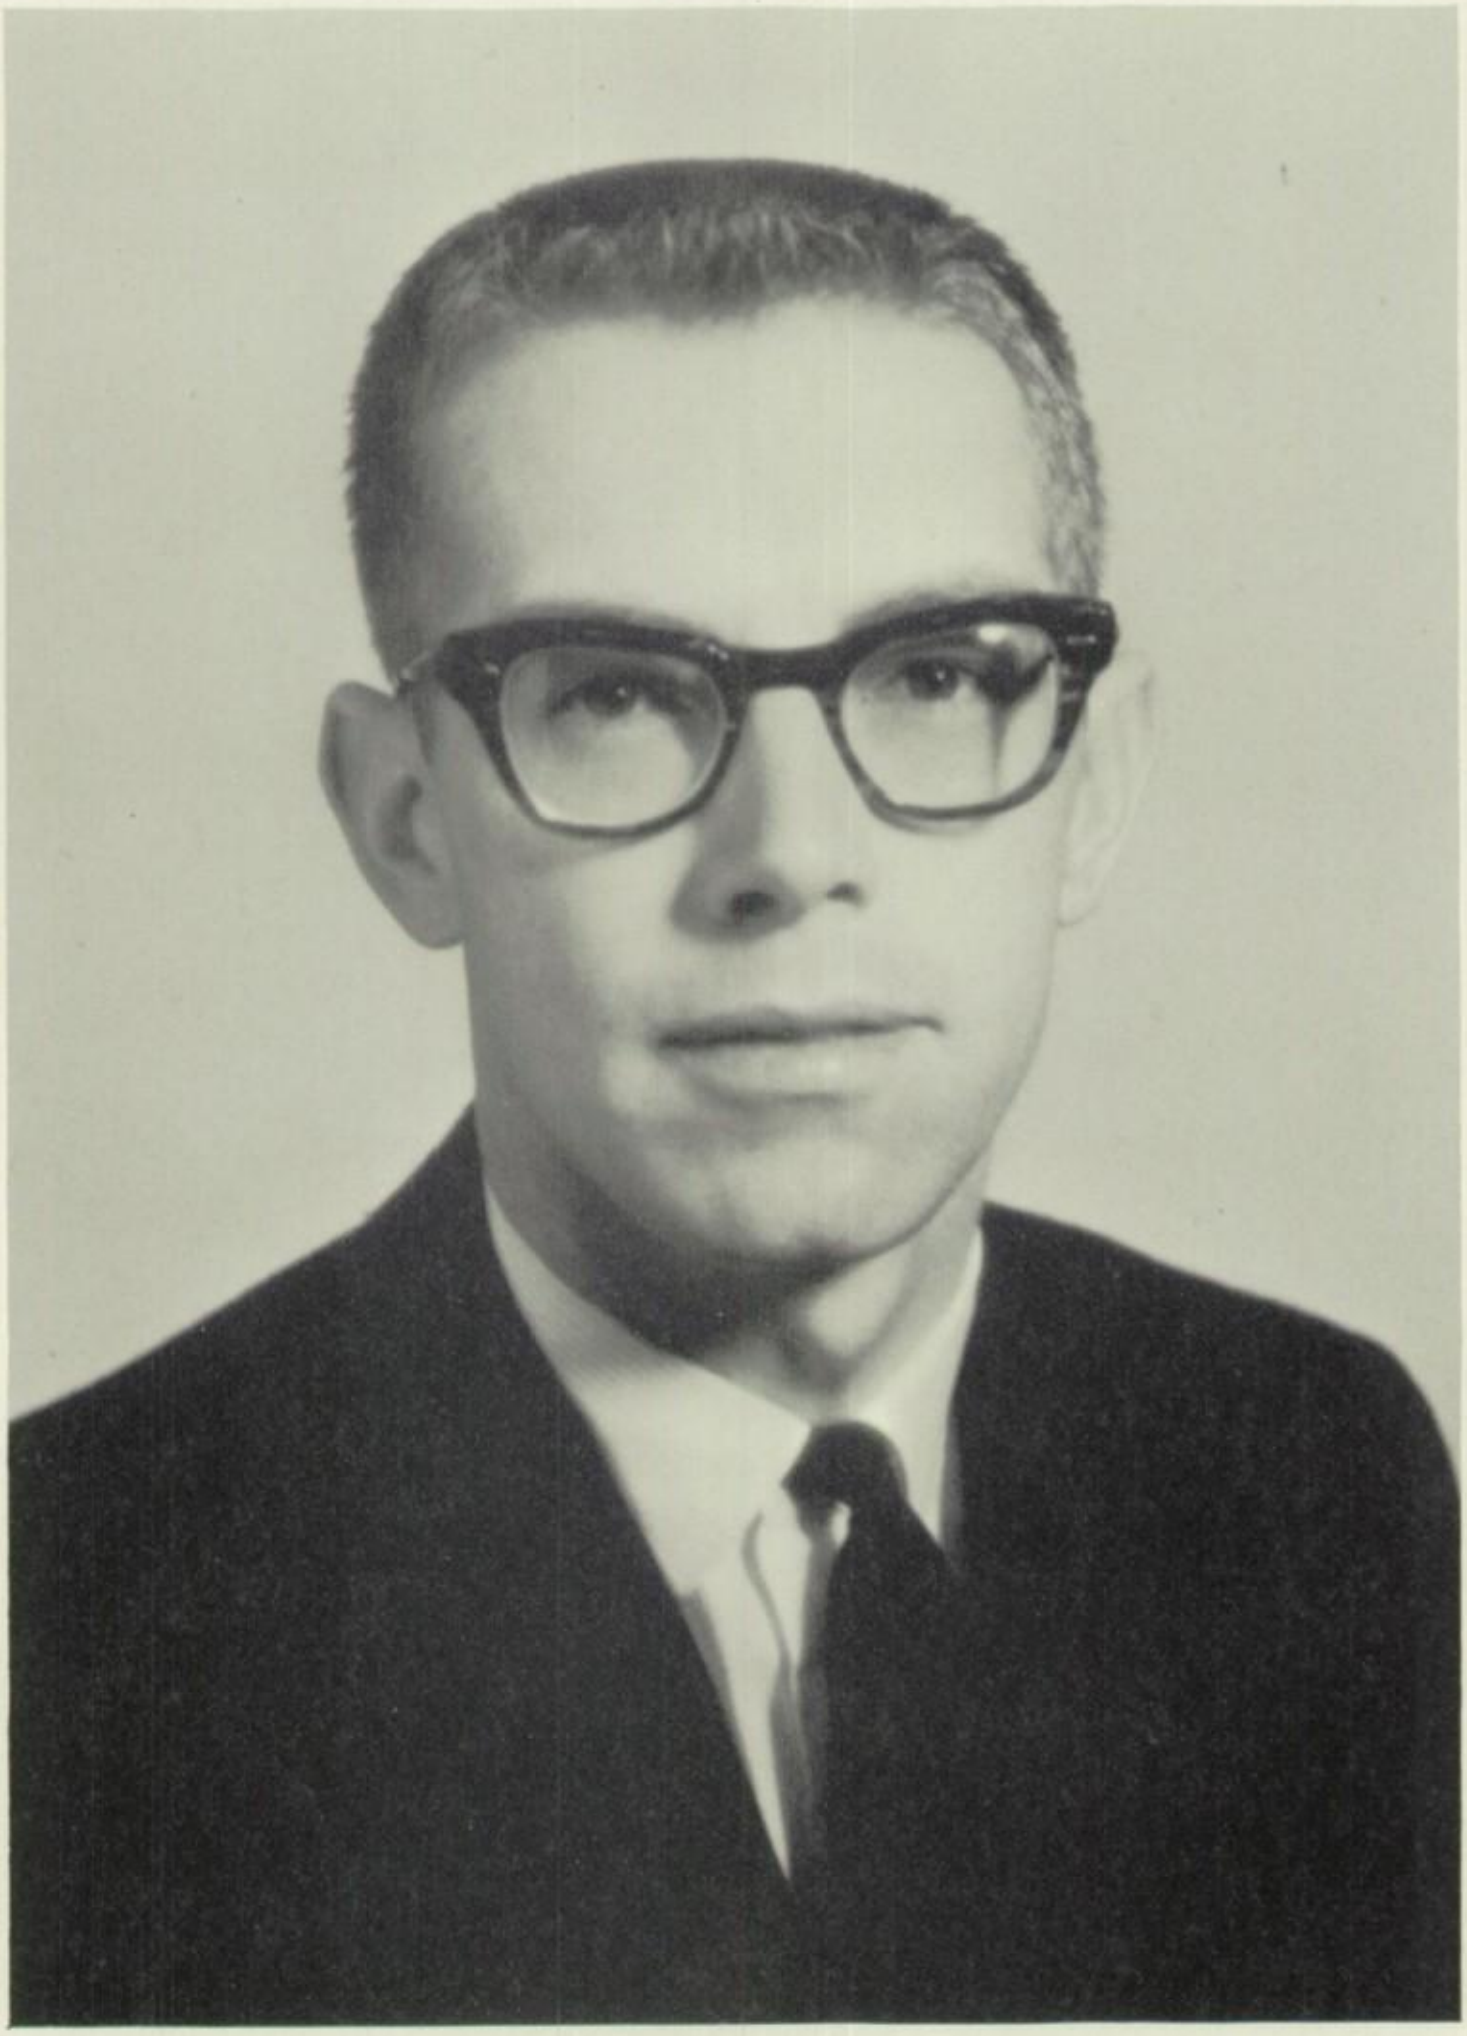
Our Golden



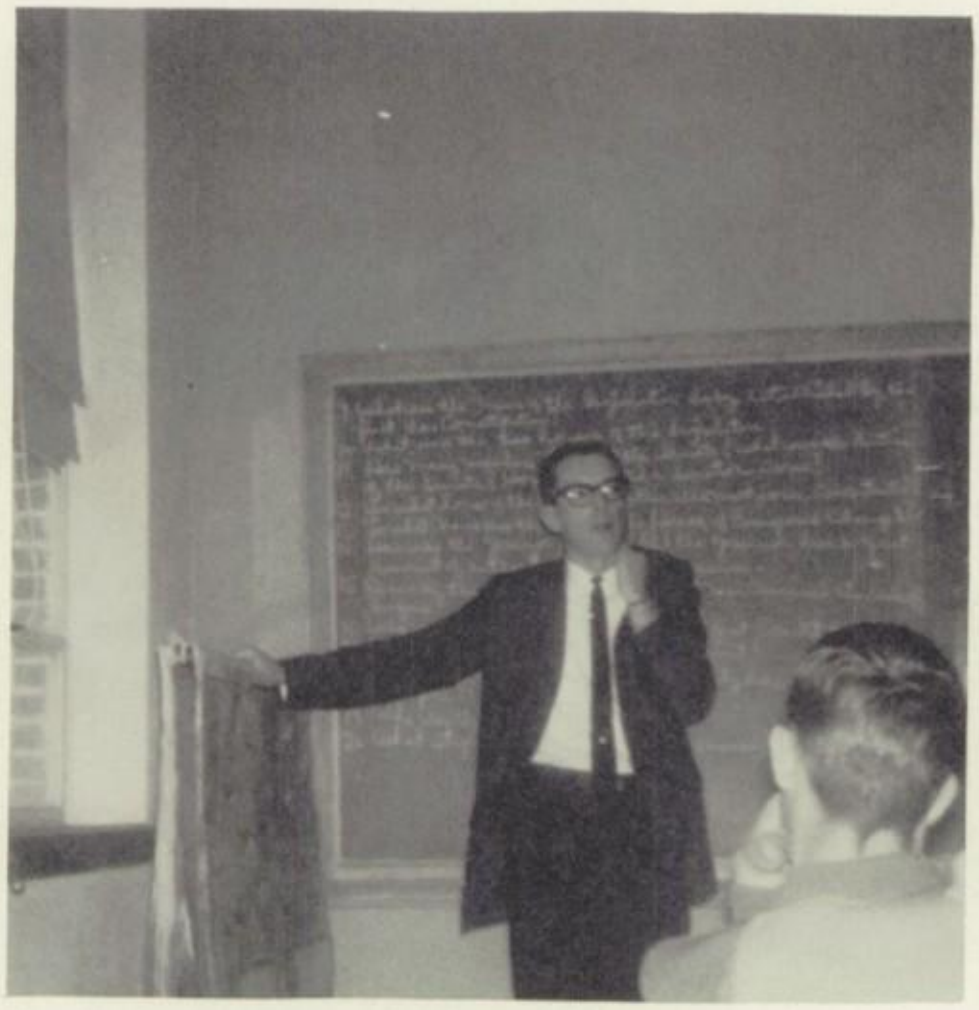
Dedication

A dedication is a presentation of gratitude, a display of honor, and a collection of smiles and tears. An individual who is a recipient of a dedication is one worthy of our praise and respect.

It is with deep gratitude and humble respect that the Annual Staff and student body of Dublin High School proudly dedicates the 1964 MAPLE LEAVES to ROBERT R. YOUNG.

Mr. Young has led his students into a world of the past and thereby enabled them to see the future. He has kindled a flame of knowledge which shall burn in the eyes of his students. Yet, he is more than a teacher. He is an understanding friend and helpful supporter.

For this and far more, we truly and deeply honor a teacher and a friend, ROBERT R. YOUNG.



Falling Leaves of Golden Memories

A majestic Maple stood serene and tall
Lifting its branches to the sky,
And as its leaves drifted to the ground,
My inward thoughts soared free and high.

The falling leaves formed a pattern gold
As each past memory fled by,
And soon there remained naught but the shimmer
As moments of yesteryear drew nigh.

Those hours and days in lofty hallowed halls
Form now for me a golden view.
Great falling leaves of days gone by
Glow brightly with an ardent hue.

Twas in those hallowed halls I sought and learned
The mystery of the age of time.
And there I wisely found the strength of knowledge
That helped me in my upward climb.

Ah now, dear stately tree of golden leaves
You summon days of yesteryear.
I thank thee for this glance of moments gold,
For all that I now cherish dear.

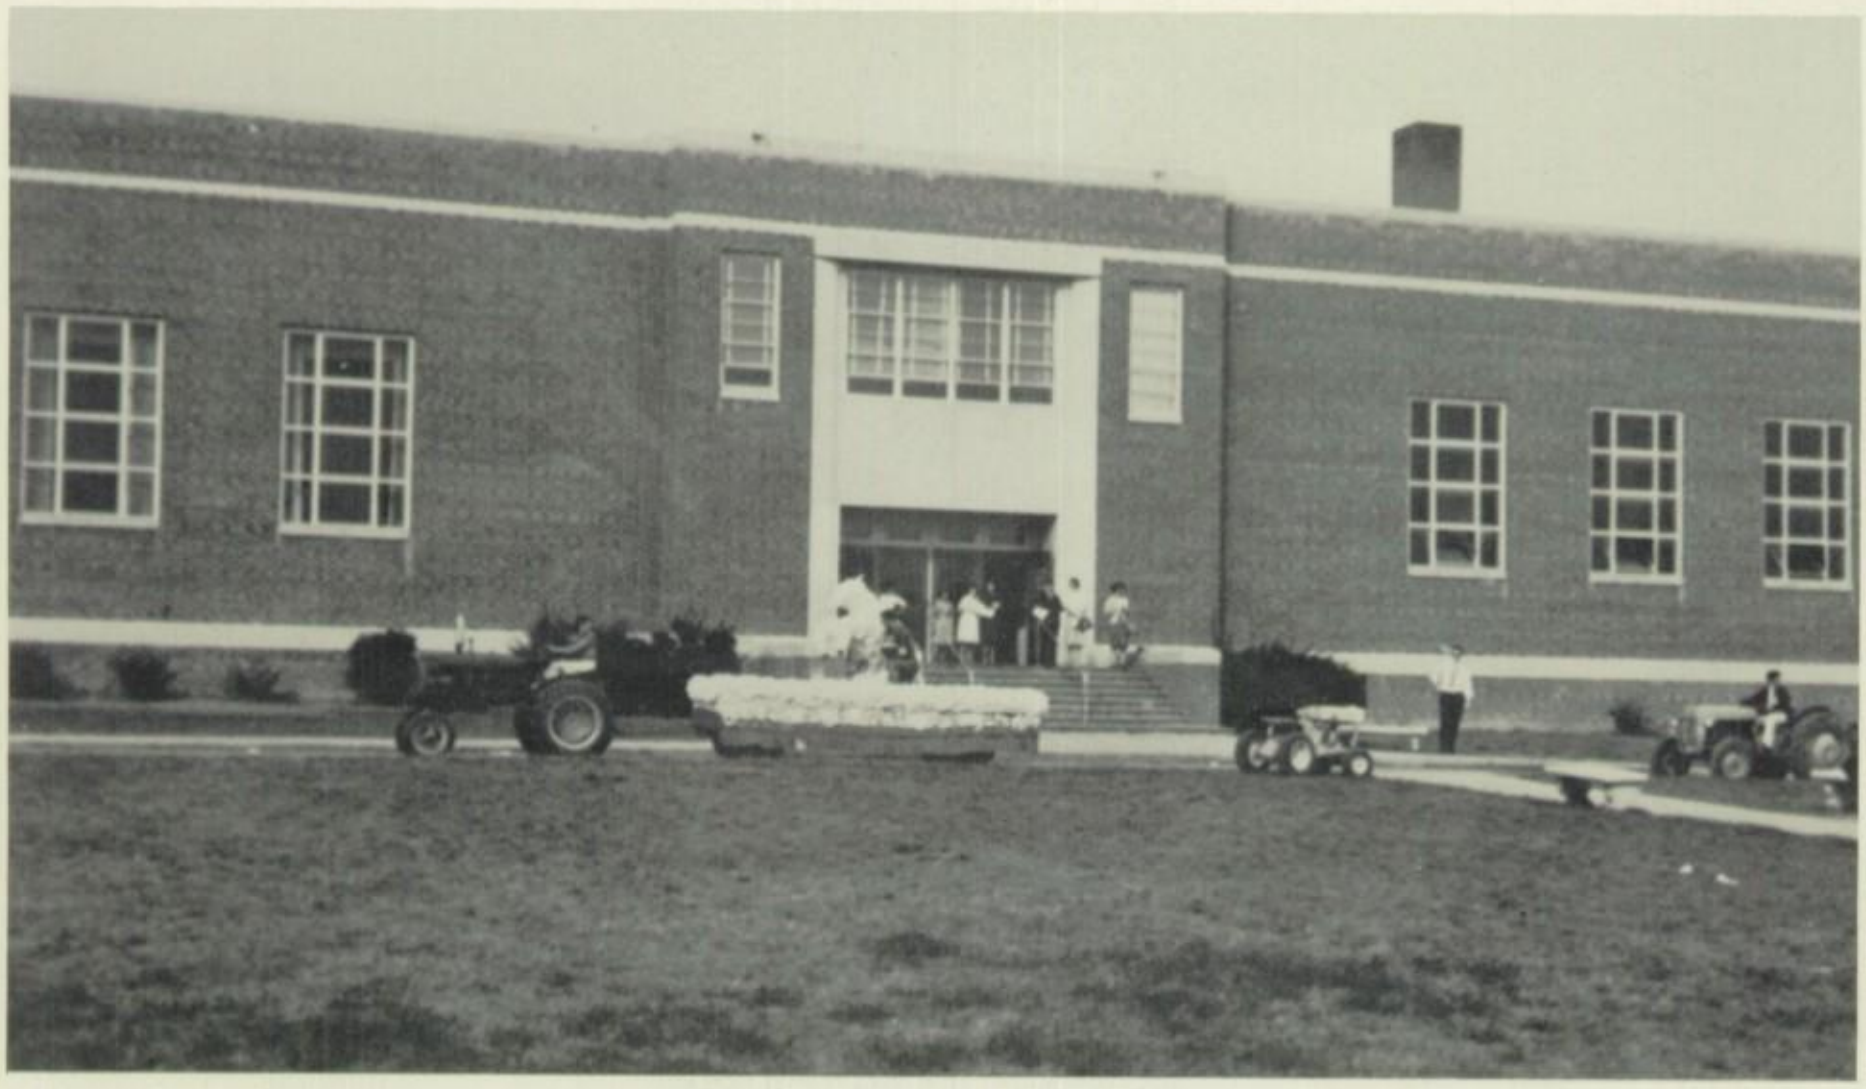
Their Goal

The High School



PURPOSE OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

(a) to provide the opportunity for adequate preparation of those students who plan to enter college

(b) to provide the opportunity for practical training for those students who plan to enter a vocation

(c) to require of all students the completion of certain courses in general education; and

(d) to inculate in all students good moral character, a respect for their country, and a reverence for things spiritual.
